

XM Satellite Radio has taken broadcasting far beyond normal radio broadcasting and it would be very unfair to put a leash on their futuristic and beneficial ways of dealing with what so many thought was an outdated mode of communication. XM Radio should be given kudos instead being harressed for their new inovations. How about telling regular broadcasters to stepup their services instead dragging down or handcuffing a pioneer in a new technology. Thank you